Dragonvale breeding chart 2019

Welcome to the official WBANGCA Efficiency DragonVale Breeding Guide. Comments you'll find here are both my personal experiments and the results that friends informed konkretit me. I compared this to all the other breeding guide anyway) and found that I could only list the best possible combinations for the players instead of giving them a list of all possible breeding combinations. If you want to then check out Lion's DragonVale Breeding Guide because the list is only extremely long. In any way I have to note that this was part of the lion breeding guide until the Sandstorm and Sun/Moon parts where I took over completely (permission was granted). I also want to thank ED1075 for her extreme hard work in touching up the text, images, and breeding information in the old guide. So give him some gems. This is the best and only DragonVale Breeding guide. Permission has been granted to use the bare bone in the Lion's (www.gameteep.com/lion) guide. Special thanks to ED1075 for the egg pictures and organizing the layout. Basic information: The following dragon combinations are the best and most effective way to get these dragons to get using the same combinations. Definitions: Efficiency – the best possible way of variety. This does not mean that it will work for you even in the calculation of clock or dragon elements. Please do not confuse yourself with God (The Dragonvale Company) Breeding - combining two dragons with the same or different elements to create a new dragon Tips: Even if the right combination of dragon elements the result is still ultimately random. This guide is designed to help you understand what is the best possible way to get all dragons into breeding – and which combinations are possible. If you breed two dragons, which you choose to breed. Please don't waste your time on this, the odds don't improve. The number of friends, dragons, decorations, buildings, or habitats there does not affect the outcome. Don't listen to random statements that say otherwise because they're false and a waste of time. The level of dragons with each of 2 different elements. There must be 4 different elements between the two dragons if you want to have a chance to breed a rainbow. Time sensitive information: These have all been tested in the EST time zone, but I'm 100% sure that the time zone or time of day doesn't matter which dragon seems to successfully multiply more often during the course Daytime EST and moon dragon seem to successfully multiply more often in the night EST. Times may depend only on the EST time zone, or may depend on your own time zone on your device. We're still trying to figure out the details of the two dragons. *Note: Confirmed notes for Sun Dragon and Moon Dragon. Please set your device to a 12 hour clock if you have a problem with rbeeding Moon Dragon or Sun Dragon. * Note: Remember, the chances of a dragon being random, the order doesn't matter. If you don't get one you want.
